Consumers want:

Less added sugars, real fruits

Consumers want more and more reduced sugar drinks, especially Gen Z and young Millennials. Energy drinks, iced tea, iced coffee & carbonates are driving growth in sugar reduction product categories. Both AcaSol and SunBlue have zero added sugars and are fruit-derived.

Superior taste

Beverages with less sugar still need to be fun and appealing to the senses, as consumers want taste profiles considered healthy, indulgent and pleasant.

- Cranberry is among the top 10 rising flavors in North and Latin America.
- Wild blueberries have been scientifically confirmed to be more "floral," "fruity," "sweet," and "blueberry" than other blueberries varieties.

Flavors opportunities

Beverages represent an important area of experimentation for consumers, with increasing demands for new fruity and botanical tastes. Cranberry and wild blueberry are two exciting flavors for consumers to enjoy and repeat.
